ARMY MAKES CONVENTS.

Last night at nine o'clock the Salvation army in front of the Commercial hotel on Whyte avenue, two convents voluntarily surrendered. The ranks and arm in arm with one of the soldiers marched in the procession to the barracks. It was a voluntary surrender on behalf of the men.

TEACHERS MARK PAPERS.

W. A. Curtis, L. W. Taylor, J. R. W. and H. S. Shepard, of the South Side schools, and W. H. Scott, formerly of Nanton School, are among the teachers now busy marking examination papers at McKay Avenue School. They mark the examination papers written by students from C. B. S.

CONDUCTOR INJURED.

Conductor Carr, while in charge of a car, slipped on the crowded street when crossing the C. P. tracks on Whyte avenue, Tuesday night at 8:15. He had struck the rail inflicting a nasty gash above the eye. He was stunned for a few moments but was able to walk after a short breathing spell. The car was crowded with the usual "crazy crowd" and the conductor went to step on after flagging over the crossing he missed his footing.

SOUTH SIDE LIBRARY NOTES.

Among the new arrivals of magazines in the Public Library are 41 volumes of the Science Magazine.

The vacuum cleaner at the Public Library, has several attachments, one for the floor, another for cleaning the house, another apparatus also disinfers the books returned from homes where contagious disease exists.

SUMMER SCHOOL NOTES.

The teachers attending the summer school have breakfast at 7:30 a. m. at the University of Alberta and have a walk and a talk to their physical culture exercises in the amphitheatre of the University grounds.

They all must take the course in agriculture which includes school gardening which is a most practical one. There are also plots on the University grounds. In one plot there are gardenia already started, and growing as samples of what can be done in another plot there is now a good crop of roses. This plot too is to be developed into a garden mediated after the example and kept free from weeds. The students are encouraged to utilize improved plants and methods. It will then be seen that the teachers who take the special culture in summer, have the serious strain of their teaching time here given to the improvement of the department of household science the last two years are to learn to do many more things and to practice working.

BOOKS ON PLAYGROUNDS.

Among the new books to arrive at the Public Library on Main street (books that are some for those who are interested in the question of books are the following: one of the school buildings and grounds of the city. A study of these books would be useful to those taking part in the discussion of supervised playgrounds for information in the present school playground of other cities.

The titles of some of the books indicate the subject matter but the illustrations give a vivid impression of the subject.

"AN OPEN BOOK"

MADE IN EDMONTON

Have you ever noticed how difficult it is to post in a ledger that has a rounded surface? We have binders especially constructed to overcome this difficulty.

OUR ROUND-BACK BINDER GIVES A FLAT WRITING SURFACE.

And then, again, that Special Binder you had to get from the East, and wait months for—why not have it made right here and save that valuable time? Nothing is too much trouble for us—and we stick at nothing in the line of Loose-Leaf Goods. Phone 5501 and we will show you a complete line of Binders, Sheets, etc., right in your office.

Sept. 15, or possibly before, if the weather permits.

The surface is now finished on Pine Avenue from Richmond to Agnes. Concrete binder has been laid out on Northwood Boulevard, Third to Fifth Avenue, Keweenaw to Southwood Boulevard, street, Pine Avenue to Edmonton Avenue.

Willow Avenue, Edmonton Avenue to gates of exhibition grounds. Still under construction are Jasper street, Willow Avenue to Pine Avenue.

Kilduff street, Jasper Avenue to Pine Avenue.

Edmonton Avenue, Willow Avenue to corner of Norton street and Broad Avenue.

Edmonton Avenue is better known to edmonstons as the Fort Trail. When this contract of paving is completed it will make a road (main highway) from the corner of Norton street and Broad Avenue in a southerly direction to the heart of the city at Jasper and First street.

NORTH EDMONTON WORK.

Regarding the sanitary and protective improvements asked for by the citizens of North Edmonton, the medical health officer states that he and the streets superintendent are working with a committee of North Edmontonians composed of Messrs. Crockett, Mitchell, and McLeod.

This committee called the attention of the city officials chiefly to the present necessity for a sewer and water service, also for protection for the business section of North Edmonton. Their suggestion, that appeared reasonable to the officials, was that provision should be made for a sewer in emergency until such time as the trunk sewer is available. This, it is thought, could be accomplished by constructing a sewer from the packing plant northwards to the creek, and from the Port Saskatchewan trail southward in the creek, the fall being defined in each direction.

It is suggested by the health officer that the city should provide a sewer in the business section of the city, the conditions of the business section of the village be so serious that it is as long as no sewers are provided.

CITY SHOULD PREVENT OVERCROWDING BOATS.

Such is One Recommendation of Parks Superintendent in regard to Necessary Provisions for Life Saving — Suggests Where Life Belts Should be Placed.

In an effort to make proper provision for life-saving on the Saskatchewan River, in the course through the city limits at least, the city commissioners yesterday instructed the auditor to enter with the public works department of the provincial government, to see if some arrangement cannot be reached for carrying out suggestions made by Parks Superintendent von Auer.

Mr. Von Auer was asked to prepare a report showing what in his opinion would be the best method of dealing with this question. His report and recommendations were received by the city commissioners this morning and are as follows:

"The first and most important step in my opinion," says the parks superintendent, "is to have regulations which provide that each craft plying on the river within the city limits should not be loaded beyond its carrying capacity and that as many lifebelts should be kept on board as there are people allowed to go on under the regulations."

The next step would be to have lifebelts with lines attached to them, distributed at the following points:

"South-east corner of Buena Vista at the house of Mr. Stephenson, who has two boats, at the ferry house of Mr. Tarnher at the foot of Capital Hill; building at the foot of Tremblay street; Walters Mills, both north and south side; Government wharf at the foot of Lee level bridge; Pioneer mill at Riverdale; Standard mill at mouth of Hat Creek."

"Then, lifebelts should be of the round type, with a line about 75 feet long attached to each. The points attached by me generally have a man in some position during the summer. Especially at this time of the mill, where several men are engaged in the true along the banks, and in the line to the conveyor of the saw mill. These people generally have a boat."

"Finally, I would recommend the use of arrangements whereby life saving and the handling of life-saving apparatus be handled in the summer months of the Y.M.C.A. as persons qualified. This is something entirely apart from the handling of the apparatus. The extensive general taught here is an overhead stroke, which is admirably adapted to cover short distances in quiet water, but it is very helpful in an attempt to save people from drowning."

"Regarding the first point mentioned, the overcrowding of river craft, I have seen a motor launch with a capacity to seat four people comfortably, loaded with twelve people. Four were sitting in the regular seats, four were standing in the engine pit, where the seat had been removed, two were sitting on the stern with their backs to the overhead and two were were lying in the bow. The steersman is that one had a hard time looking past those in front of him and picking him out between legs and arms."

"If this boat had struck and some death, the four people in the bow would have had a fairly good chance to save themselves by using the chair they were sitting on. The other eight would have had to struggle for safety, and there were no life belts or other safety appliances in the boat at all."

Mr. Pugh has returned from Banff where he spent the week end.

CARNEY ADDITION

In the Heart of Fort George

Up to the present time the most of the development has taken place on District Lot 937, which lies on the Nechaco River front adjacent to the canal property. Central Avenue is the main business center, and here the hotels, retail shops, stores and banks are located. Fraser Avenue divides D. L. 937 from the railroad property, and as a business street bids fair to become second in importance only to Central Avenue, for it extends from the Nechaco River to the Fraser River, and will undoubtedly have steamboat docks at each extremity.

Now, that South Fort George can grow only westward, and that on the proposed plan of the subdivision of the G. T. P. property the important streets run into Fraser Avenue at or near Carney, and further that property over a mile farther out than Carney has been subdivided into town lots and is now selling. Considering, then, that Carney is in the direct line of present growth and development of the business section of Fort George, and likewise of South Fort George, and lies adjoining the G. T. P. property, the important streets of which lead to Carney, you will readily see that Carney is the best buying in Fort George today, and your last chance to buy "inside Property" direct from the owners at "before the railroad" prices.
